

joining brands, sharing knowledge

Press Release

Agrisolutions names new President

June 25, 2019

Tom Welke has been named President of the global Agrisolutions business, effective July 1, 2019.

Tom Welke comes to Agrisolutions with vast experience in the sector, as the former leader of the GSI Group, the world's leading provider of grain handling, seed processing and protein production solutions, that has been part of AGCO Corporation since 2011. Tom will be based in Rock Island, IL – USA.

"I am excited to join Agrisolutions and to help realize on the tremendous opportunities that exist to make the business bigger, stronger, and even more customer focused," said Tom. "Today, Agrisolutions is a very robust business with enormous growth potential in a critical sector of the world's economy."

"Tom is a great addition to our Venanpri Group and will help us to accelerate our global business growth ambitions, as we deliver world class solutions to our customers under all our well recognized brands" said Alfonso Escudero, Executive Chairman of the Venanpri Group.

About Agrisolutions

As a main partner of the key agricultural equipment manufacturers, Agrisolutions is the global leading group in Tillage, Planting and Seeding and Service with 8 manufacturing and 10 distribution facilities worldwide and 5 trade brands: Bellota, Ingersoll, Rozalma, Solbjerg and Trinity Logistics. Agrisolutions and VenanpriTools are business units of Venanpri Group.

For more information: www.agrisolutionscorp.com

Contact: Eduardo Urrestarazu (eurrestarazu@agrisolutionscorp.com)